Simeio Solutions Appoints Identity Management Expert Naynesh Patel as Partner

- Simeio Continues Growth and Momentum with Addition of Industry Veteran Patel -

HOBOKEN, NJ – May 12, 2009 – Simeio Solutions (www.simeiosolutions.com) today announced the addition of industry veteran Naynesh Patel as a partner in the company. He joins Simeio from KPMG LLP, where he served as the Americas leader for identity and access management (IAM) services. Mr. Patel has over 15 years of experience in leading and delivering services and solutions to clients in the telecom, retail, energy, automotive, pharmaceutical, food and beverage, entertainment, financial services and insurance sectors. In his new position, he will help shape and guide Simeio's business strategies and operations, as well as lead technology and product direction of the company.

"We are thrilled to have an executive of Naynesh's caliber join the Simeio team," says Hemen Vimadalal, founder and managing partner, Simeio Solutions. "He has achieved remarkable success in developing IAM, compliance and security strategies for some of the world's largest enterprises. We know he will play an integral role in Simeio's continued growth and innovation, building opportunities for our suite of services."

"I'm very excited to join Simeio, a company broadly recognized as a thought leader in identity and access management," says Patel. "This is a fantastic opportunity to show customers how to leverage IAM technologies to standardize and automate business processes, reduce corporate risk, improve audit performance and minimize implementation costs. I look forward to making the best contribution possible to Simeio's growth."

Mr. Patel has extensive experience in the implementation, strategy, design and assessment of identity and access management solutions. During his tenure with KPMG, Mr. Patel led the development of a global delivery methodology around identity and access management and also served as National Instructor to grow resources and skills on the same topic. Mr. Patel is a frequent speaker at industry conferences and holds a Certified Information Systems Security Professional (CISSP) certification. He has a Bachelor's degree in Computer Science from Kennesaw State University.
